Stephen Field

Executive Director of Human Resources Lydiate Learning Trust

Stephen is Executive Director of Human Resources across our Trust. Stephen has over 30 years' operational and strategic HR experience, gained within the public sector. Prior to moving into the education sector, Stephen worked as a HR professional in the Royal Air Force and has extensive experience of varied business functions and a successful track record of implementing HR initiatives.

As Human Resources Director for the Trust, Stephen plays a key role in driving the Trust's people agenda, along with working closely with the HR Team to ensure that a comprehensive centralised HR provision is available to all within the Trust. Stephen believes that creating the right culture for our people and students is a key driver to ensuring our future success.
